Gotas de Agua / DROPS of WATER

FOR THE FIRST TIME at

Montgomery County Recreation

Montgomery County Recreation and Teatro de La Luna jointly present the bilingual play for children, Gotas de Agua / Drops of Water. The play was written and directed by Neher Jacqueline Briceño, and will be performed Saturday and Sunday, August 17 and 18, at 3 p.m. in the Randolph Road Theater, which is located at 4010 Randolph Road in Silver Spring, Maryland.

About ‘Drops of Water’

In a magical play of images, three clowns talk about the importance of water as characters from Gotas, a city in danger. Alex Alburqueque is Hydro-Friend, defender of Water, Marcela Ferlito is Rocío, guardian of the fountain of pure water and Peter Pereyra is Conta, King of Contamination. These characters will amuse and teach us to take care of the most precious treasure of our planet: WATER.

Teatro de la Luna and its “Experience Theater” Program

As it seeks to awaken in children an interest in theater and poetry, and to stimulate proper use and interpretation of language, Experience Theater is not merely a spectacle or a dramatized story, but rather a rich mixture that confronts young people and encourages them to entangle themselves in the threads of theater and the arts. It’s a program that adapts itself to all audiences, regardless of age, but concerns itself most especially with little children and young people. Experience Theater is always there among the endeavors of Teatro de la Luna, as a measure for its achievements, a bright shining gift to all the little children and young people of our metropolitan area.

Note:* Two complimentary tickets await your call.
