in
“POR SU CABEZA / IN HIS OWN WORDS”

Acclaimed Paraguayan entertainer Jorge Ratti brings his standup comedy show “Por su cabeza” to the Washington Metropolitan Area for the first time. The humorist’s hour-long show, sponsored by bilingual theater Teatro de la Luna, takes place at 8 p.m. Friday, July 25, and Saturday, July 26, at Casa de la Luna, 4020 Georgia Avenue NW, Washington, DC, 20011.

About the show

Ratti, an acute observer of daily life, taps his distinctive humor in offering insight on technology, time, and Paraguayan folklore. “POR SU CABEZA / *In his own words”, which drew sold-out crowds in New York City earlier this year, is performed in Spanish.

About the author / Actor

Ratti is a versatile performer who has been a DJ, radio broadcaster, and radio and TV host. He began his career in 1999 as a broadcaster for Radio Venus, and then worked with Radio City and Rock and Pop also in Asunción. He served as a TV news anchor for three years at Paravisión and performed on entertainment shows, including Calor 305, Rock TV, Calle 7, 70/80 and Tardísimo. Since 2003 he has hosted primetime radio show Ataque 105 on Radio Venus.

Ratti took his standup humor to the Arlequín Theatre in 2011, the same year he became a member of the comedy group Buena Risa Asunción Club. In 2012, he was invited to perform with Adal Ramones.

In 2013, in addition to touring a comedy routine, Ratti starred in the play “Recién Casados” with Clotilde Cabral and Lali González and traveled to Mexico City to appear in “Stand Parados” on Televisa's "Distrito Comedia" channel. In December, he unveiled his newest stand-up routine, which was filmed for the cable channel Hei Música.

In Asunción, Ratti is currently seen in the play "Toc Toc," which is being performed to sold-out crowds.
